Friends of Namal Canada Hosts Scholarship Dinners

Namal's Canada chapter hosted a series of scholarship fundraisers across the country, attracting widespread support and participation. The events, held in Calgary, Montreal, Vancouver, Toronto, Hamilton, Edmonton, and London, were graced by Namal's long-time patron, a renowned lawyer and the distinguished grandson of Sir Allama Iqbal. This added immense prestige and significance to the noble cause of advancing Pakistan's knowledge economy, inspiring greater support and enthusiasm for the mission of Namal Knowledge City.

Thank you,
Friends of Namal Canada
& all supporters!

Your generosity is paving the way for a brighter future that empowers Pakistan's next generation of changemakers.

Namal Cricket Ground Sets the Stage for University Showdown

Namal University hosted the University of Mianwali for a friendly leather ball cricket match at Namal Cricket Ground (NCG). Both teams delivered outstanding performances, enjoying the tranquil ambience of NCG.

Namal Cricket Ground spans 123,400 sq ft, offering ample space for sporting activities.

Building pathways for future careers

MOU with the Punjab Information Technology Board (PITB)

Namal University Mianwali has officially signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with the Punjab Information Technology Board (PITB), the IT wing of the Government of Punjab. This partnership is part of the initiative to establish Job Centers across the province, aiming to improve job placement opportunities for our students and connect them with diverse employers.

BS Computer Science Accreditation!

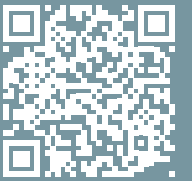

We are proud to share that the Computer Science department at Namal University has secured 03 years of NCEAC Accreditation for the BS Computer Science degree program. This achievement marks a significant milestone for Namal University, as it formally recognizes our commitment to imparting quality education. We extend our heartfelt congratulations to the entire Namal Family.

Namal Knowledge City to Impact the Future of Education

Namal Knowledge City is transforming Mianwali into a center for education and innovation. Spread across 1,100 acres near Namal Lake, it will include schools, a technology park, and residential facilities, raising the standard for higher education in Pakistan.

In Phase I, the new Academic Building- designed by architect Tony Ashai - will house a School. It features modern lecture halls, advanced labs, and collaborative spaces, built with sustainable materials like stone and mud blocks. The building reflects Namal Knowledge City's vision of a world-class, eco-friendly learning environment.

Alumni Sponsors a Student

A 2013 Namal graduate, Zohaib Ahmad Hassan, has transformed from a student with aspirations into a successful entrepreneur. He embodies Imran Khan's vision of creating change through education. This vision, based on the idea that education can spark a wave of transformation, is now becoming a reality.

As a proud alumnus, Zohaib is giving back by sponsoring a student at Namal. His generosity exemplifies the ripple effect of transformative education that Imran Khan envisioned. This act of kindness reflects the growing impact of Namal's mission. With the support of dedicated partners and alumni, Namal continues to nurture a cycle of success and generosity, spreading waves of positive change in communities.
